

Franklin County Watermelon Festival Rules

For the safety and enjoyment of everyone attending Franklin County Watermelon Festival, the following rules are in place:

All ages are welcome

Pets

We know pets are like family, however, we ask that you leave your pets/animals at home. This policy is due to the festival environment, and presence of food and drink, being stressful for animals and has led to bites and other incidents. It is hot, crowded, and loud. This environment can be very stressful for animals and usually well-behaved pets may feel the need to protect its owner by attacking another person or animal. Anyone bringing an animal to the Franklin County Watermelon Festival will be responsible for and liable for any damage or injury caused by the animal. Traveling into Russellville with your pet? Be a responsible and loving pet-parent by leaving them at an animal kennel before the festival. For Americans with Disabilities Act info, please see the "SERVICE ANIMALS" section below.

Service Animals

The task(s) performed by the dog must be directly related to the person's disability. Under the ADA, "comfort," "therapy," or "emotional support animals" do not meet the definition of a service animal. – U.S. Dept. of Justice. If you have a certified service animal that you are required to have with you at all times, you'll be required to have your service animal with you and ON LEASH at all times. Under the ADA, service animals must be harnessed, leashed, or tethered, unless these devices interfere with the service animal's work or the individual's disability prevents using these devices.
